Another Phase of the Azusa Water War.

Two Victims Begin Suits For False Imprisonment.

Arrival of a Big Excursion of Down-East Yankees.

Long Beach Railroad — Hunting — Mr. Yocum Writes That He Is Alive and Well—The Young Men's Institute—Not a Suicide, Etc.

The affairs in connection with the Azusa water-right war have taken another and different turn from what has been recorded within the past two weeks. It appears that among the crowd of persons arrested on September 17th, at the instance of Mr. Baldridge, who charged them with malicious mischief, were William Beatty and John Scott of Duarte who were compelled to come into town and answer to the charges preferred against them in Justice Taney's Court. With the other folks arrested at the same time at Azusa and Duarte, Beatty and Scott were tried by a jury and acquitted of the charge set against them, and now they are after the scalp of Mr. Baldridge, who had the warrants issued on which they were arrested.

Yesterday complaints were filed with the County Clerk on behalf of William Beatty and John Scott, who commence suit through their attorneys, Williams & McKinley, to recover the sum of $10,000 damages each from Mr. Baldridge for "the loss of time, damage to their business, pain of mind and damage to their reputations ensuing from the charges brought against them by Mr. Baldridge," which after being heard by a jury of twelve men were dismissed."

It is stated by others of the party arrested at this time that in the event of Beatty and Scott being given judgment against Baldridge, each one will bring suit for the same amount until all who were put under arrest and brought into this city, they state simply to prevent them from working on the new tunnel, have had their time paid for by the Covina Company, which instituted the proceedings.

FAIRLY OPENED.

The Young Men's Institute and Its Success.

The Young Men's Institute gave its initial open social last evening at Opera Hall to a large audience.

The exercises were of a most interesting character, many numbers receiving encores. Particular mention may be made of the vocal selection by Mrs. Dr. Kannon and the execution of Mrs. Thomas McCarthy on the guitar. Following the musical and literary exercises a social dance was indulged in.

President M. Lacy in addressing the audience, stated that the Young Men's Institute was organized on June 1, 1883. The first branch of the organization was established in the city of San Francisco. In the preamble of the constitution and bylaws it is declared that all men should receive mutual aid and support, and should form themselves into organizations and societies for their promotion, temporal and spiritual. These young men banded themselves together under the name of "The Young Men's Institute." They also pledged themselves to cultivate sociability, and do everything in their power to promote social intercourse among themselves. They had such pleasant times that they decided to inaugurate what is known as open meetings, to which they could invite all their friends to participate in social enjoyment. This they did, and in a short space of time this became the most popular social gathering in the city of San Fradeisco. Their order extended rapidly to adjoining towns, and today there is not a town in the State of California in which cannot be found an institute of the Young Mens' Institute of California. The friends and brothers extend a most cordial welcome to you all.

The following programme was then excellently rendered:

Rev. Henry Noel Morgan of Wilmington made a short address. Introductory address by the President, Martin Lacy. Instrumental duet, violin and piano, Prof. and Miss Gardiner. Address, "Sociability," Bro. J. V. Sproul. Vocal selection, Bro. H. B. Sullivan. Recitation, comic, Bro. J. P. Thomas. Instrumental solo, guitar, Mrs. Thomas McCarthy. Address, Bro. S. F. Spencer. Vocal selection, Mrs. Dr. Kannon. Recitation, Miss Williams. Instrumental duet, flute and guitar, Messrs. Spencer and Cheif. Music, vocal quartette.

The names of the officers are as follows: Martin Lacy, President; L. D. Deane, First Vice-President; H. B. McKory, Second Vice-President; J. K. Chalmers, Recording Secretary; H. B. Sullivan, Corresponding Secretary; T. B. Timony, Financial Secretary; Emil Quarre, Treasurer; James Cassen, Marshal; Dr. Kannon, Surgeon; J. V. Sproul, Critic.

Encouraging Progress of the Good Work.

William H. Mead, General Secretary in Los Angeles, E. S. Field and others, delegates to the recent State Convention held at Woodland, have just returned, and report the convention to have been the best ever held in this State. The large delegation of representative young men from all parts of the State excited numerous comments by their gentlemanly and intelligent appearance on the streets of Woodland as they met in conference to discuss methods of increasing the efficiency of their work, or entered the homes of the residents who entertained them. The work is in better shape now than at any previous time, and young men are being benefited in all directions. New organizations have been effected at several points, including Monrovia, Redlands, San Buena Ventura and Santa Barbara. Special efforts have been put forth in the colleges and higher institutions of learning, and now in some twenty of these college Young Men's Christian Associations are established.

J. Spencer Voorhes, a graduate of Princeton College, has been engaged by the State Committee to coöperate with C. S. Mason as an additional State secretary. Mr. Voorhes will give a large portion of his time to Southern California during the coming year and will be in this city about November 1st.

The association at Los Angeles has made notable progress. Its membership has increased during the year 250 per cent. The community generally has become deeply interested in its work, and many a young man has cause to be thankful for its existence.

A handsome stone and brick building is now being erected next to the new bank building, corner Second and Fort streets, to take place of the present inadequate quarters. Toward the $100,000 required for this purpose, about $65,000 has already been subscribed, and with the able assistance of James G. Chown, chairman of the State Committee, who will spend some time here, the balance of $35,000 will doubtless soon be forthcoming.

All who are interested in this unquestionably good work can send subscriptions to James G. Chown or to William H. Mead, secretary, 213 West Second street.

Unless You Want to Buy, Don't Read This.

Being directly interested in the building of a standard gauge railroad from Los Angeles along the foothills to Santa Monica, places us in position to offer some gilt-edged bargains at various points along the route. We are sole agents for the sale of lots in Prospect Hill subdivision, in the Lick Tract, where grading has already begun and the building of a $75,000 hotel, "The Winchester," will be pushed to completion as rapidly as men and material can do it. This is the finest and most beautiful subdivision in the county, and only fifteen minutes' ride from Spring street. The cars will be running to this subdivision by October 20th, and a fine depot will be built immediately. Strangers and tourists are especially invited to call at our office and inspect the plans for the hotel; also maps of subdivisions. We have also several other tracts or subdivisions on the line of railroad and boulevard, which we will be pleased to show our customers at any time. Sunset boulevard, as well as the Foothills Railroad, runs through or near all these tracts, and we can accommodate you with large or small lots or acre tracts on which large profits may be realized. Being interested in the railroad, we can show you just where the depot buildings and sidings will be, so you will know just where to select lots either for business or residence purposes. Our carriage is always ready, and we will take pleasure in showing any one who desires to purchase, or to furnish any information in regard to the above properties. Strangers are particularly invited to make our office their headquarters while in the city, where any information in regard to real estate or railroad matters will be cheerfully given. We have some fine bargains in city property, houses and lots, in various parts of the city. Also a small hotel at The Palms, doing a fine business.

CARDINAL GIBBONS.

Making Preparations for His Proper Reception.

The committee of twenty-one appointed on Wednesday night to act as a reception committee on the arrival of Cardinal Gibbons, on Monday next, met yesterday at Father Peter's Hall, adjoining the old Catholic Church, on Upper Main street.

In the absence of Mayor Workman, Senator Del Valle was elected to fill the chair.

IMPORTANT CHANGE.

Senders of Money by Mail Take Note.

On and after Monday, October 24th, the money-order and registry office at the post-office will open at 9 a.m. and close at 5 p.m. daily, Sundays excepted.

Mr. Preuss finds this action necessary on account of the increased registry business. Letters registered and money orders bought during the day must be sent on the 7:30 train, together with the address, which must necessarily accompany them, and in order that this may be done sufficient time is required each evening before the departure of the train for the north to perform the work. Otherwise the advices and the orders and letters would go by separate mails, which would of course create trouble in the San Francisco office.

South Pasadena Progress.

South Pasadena has the largest and finest-looking depot on the Santa Fé road between this city and San Bernardino. For a time it has been without a station agent, on account of the resignation of Mr. Reynolds, who has served the people there most faithfully from the opening of the San Gabriel Valley Railroad until the present time. The management of the road have promised to send an agent there equally as competent, and who will also be an expert telegraph operator. The passenger and freight business of this section have been increasing rapidly for the past few months, and it promises to be one of the most popular and prosperous of our many suburban localities. In order to accommodate the rush of newcomers, its enterprising citizens are building as many cottages and small houses for rent as they can get lumber and workmen with which to construct them.

Change of Time.

The change of time on the Southern Pacific takes effect at 9 o'clock next Sunday morning. The principal change is in the through express to New Orleans and the East, which after Sunday will arrive here at 6:40 and leave at 7:15 a.m., instead of 8 o'clock, thus making connection with the fast Cincinnati express and New York limited on the Queen and Crescent route.

The Los Angeles express is thirty-five minutes later, arriving at 12:15 p.m. instead of 11:40 a.m., and the Santa Barbara train leaves ten minutes later.

An Opportunity Seldom Offered.

The Santa Fe Railroad Company are largely interested in the new town of Santa Fe Springs, at Fulton Wells. Consequently, all the projected improvements will be rapidly pushed until completed. This is the only resort within seventy miles of Los Angeles where first-class medicinal springs are found. It will, therefore, always be filled with health-seekers. The enterprising firm of Byram & Poindexter have secured 200 acres immediately adjoining the best side of this town of Santa Fe Springs, and will sell no town lots at all. They offer it only in blocks of from four to ten acres, at low acre prices, on easy terms. This gives buyers an opportunity to make handsome villa homes or small farms, just beside a railroad depot, handsome new hotel and other extensive improvements. Any purchaser of his property can double his money by subdividing into lots. Call on us for maps and further particulars. Byram & Poindexter, 27 West First street, Los Angeles.

We notice that the sales of the Raymond Improvement Company in their Division No. 1 have been so rapid that they have been obliged to subdivide more land to accommodate buyers. To this end they have placed on the market their Division No. 2, located in the southeasterly portion of their tract and in front of the Raymond Hotel. They offer some 5000 feet frontage on Garfield avenue at low prices. Everyone at all familiar with that section knows that this avenue, already the principal drive from Alhambra to Raymond Station, over two miles long and seventy feet wide, will within the near future be thickly settled its entire length. The street cars are already running from Alhambra northward, and rails enough to complete the road to Raymond will arrive in a few days and at once be laid. Call on W. G. Hughes, Secretary, Room 9, Los Angeles National Bank Building, corner First and Spring Streets.

Dummy Railroad.

The dummy road is now in operation and regular trains are running to Ivanhoe. The best speculation in lots is offered to those who buy now. No. 27 West First street.

Railroad and Telegraphic Centralization.

The tendency to centralization in railroad and telegraphic interests develops apace. The Gould telegraphic system having now absorbed the Baltimore and Ohio line, is practically lord and master of the situation east of the Rockies, unless the late "deal" can be undone—a thing that Robert Garrett, who was tricked in the trade, would like to accomplish.

That all the avenues of telegraphic information within the bounds of a great nation, and, if late advices prove true, the commercial cables that connect us with the outside world should be placed in the keeping of one man is not a pleasant thing to contemplate. It is such a sharp-pointed antithesis to Communism that it may be used by the Communist as a trenchant weapon in argumentative warfare.

This is a character of centralization that challenges the sober thought of thinking men, and that will, in all probability, become a leading issue on the floors of our legislative halls, if not in the broader fields of popular politics.

Railroad corporations have time and again pooled their issues. And what is pooling their issues? It is making a corner on the necessities of the people. Now we are threatened with the consummation of a huge and permanent pool. No less, in fact, than a permanent concentration under one, or a joint, management of the Northern Pacific, Duluth, South Shore, and the Atlantic and Michigan Central, including its connections among the Vanderbilt trunk lines of railroad, for the purpose of absorbing and cornering the through transcontinental business from the Northern Pacific Coast to the Southern Atlantic seaboard.

This tendency to absorption—the disposition of the big fish to swallow the little ones—grows with its feeding until the desire is developed to swallow everything that is fishy or that has the remotest relation to fish. It is the normal nature of the spirit of monopoly, and the full gratification of that spirit should not be vouchsafed to any power other than the General Government.

The unbridled rapacity of our railroad and telegraphic people is paving the way for the nationalization of the railroad and telegraph lines of the country. It cannot be right for a few men to control the travel and internal commerce of the country, nor can it be right for one man to hold in his keeping all the sources of telegraphic information east of the Rocky Mountains. When things come to such a pass, it is time to seriously consider the feasibility of placing the telegraph and railroad business in the hands of the Government.

The Situation as Viewed by a Sacramentan.

A recent issue of the Sacramento Bee publishes an interview with Fred A. Shepherd, an old resident and a long-time public official of the central city of Lunar California. Following is a portion of the interview as reported in the Bee:

"Mr. Shepherd says that while a tremendous immigration is now tending westward, it is only an indication of what is to follow.

"Are any of the visitors coming to Sacramento?" asked a Bee reporter.

"Few, if any," answered Mr. Shepherd.

"What's the matter; are we not sufficiently advertised?"

"We are not advertised at all," was the reply.

"Los Angeles is the only place known. I told many people when asked from what portion of California I hailed, that I came from Sacramento, and instantly would come the query, 'How far is that from Los Angeles?' as the inquirer wished to ask if I had met some relative or neighbor who had journeyed to that locality."

"Mr. Shepherd says he made it a point to visit the Eastern fruit stands. The California fruit is readily distinguished from the Eastern variety, and when Mr. Shepherd would ask the dealer regarding the portion of California in which the fruit was grown, the answer invariably came: 'In the southern part.' The irrepressible and ubiquitous Los Angeles agent had got in his work. The Sacramentan, while East, attended a fair in Massachusetts which was patronized by people of all the New England States. He saw boys distributing circulars, secured one, and found it to be a flashily-written description of Southern California."

Thus the situation is viewed by Sacramentan eyes. And, although the view is somewhat blurred by the strabismus of jealousy, the facts in the case force it to be fair enough to interest and even please the people of Southern California. As set forth by THE TIMES a few days ago, Southern California and its people have long since crossed the vapory Rubicon of N. C. B. jealousy. We are now on that plane of substantial progress that assures impregnability; and the sooner our distinguished brethren of the N. C. B. recognize that fact the better it will be for all parties concerned.

Mr. Shepherd's statements should fully satisfy certain of the press north that any further practice of misrepresentation relative to Southern California must result as though they were blowing chaff against the wind.

We have no objections to the growth of Central or Northern California; and it is difficult to understand why the Center and the North should object to our development. The growth of a country must at last be measured by its merits. We are willing to stand upon our merits.

Those New Hotels.

What progress is Los Angeles making in the matter of her proposed new hotels? There is no room for questioning our need of them. What are we going to do with the people who are coming here this winter? We have not now sufficient accommodations for all who propose coming, and if they come here and find no provisions for their comfort, it will be the most natural thing in the world for them to go elsewhere. In no one thing has San Diego shown greater wisdom than in building and equipping so elegantly her mammoth Hotel del Coronado. The fame of it has extended across the continent, and it has been the means of making San Diego known and sought after where else she would never have been considered. In the building of this mammoth hostelry she has eclipsed everything that Los Angeles has done in this direction, and she is already largely the gainer thereby. All of its 200 rooms are engaged for the winter, and the guests filling them will bring money, gaiety and social activity to the little city of Bayneclimate such as will do much to enhance its attractions and make it popular as a winter resort for wealthy people at the East. Los Angeles ought not to be dilatory in the matter. With her 60,000 people, and her constant and rapid influx of population, she ought to surpass San Diego, with her 20,000, in hotel accommodations. Our much-talked-of $500,000 hotels should be built and opened to the public just as early as practicable. It would be of immense advantage to Los Angeles if they were even now ready for occupancy. In other improvements Los Angeles is not given to delay. She ought not to be in this. Delay will result in sure loss which cannot be readily made up to her.

A MRS. M. E. PARKER announces in the Manchester (Eng.) Examiner that she has organized an association having for its object the conveying of workwomen to California. Mrs. Parker (who has been in Los Angeles missionarying) states that California sadly needs good female help. Even admitting that Mrs. Parker is right relative to our needs, it is not clear to us that any special importations would be right or proper. With the female population of Massachusetts outnumbering the males some 60,000, and a preponderance of females in all the States south of New Hampshire, north of Maryland and east of the Alleghenies, it strikes us that if California needs female help her needs can be supplied from the home market. Besides, we are better acquainted with the native article, and we always did like home products. However, we will leave this matter with Pixley, Boruck and the other protectors of Americanos naticidades.

IT'S a poor rule that won't work both ways. Our working people inaugurated the system of trades unions and the practice of strikes, and of late years the employers, having taken the hint, commenced banding together as employers' or manufacturers' associations. These associations have taken to the practice of trades-union tactics. Just now the Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' Association of Philadelphia are out on strike; that is to say, they have united against the demands of the boot and shoemakers' unions, and forestalled them in the strike business. They have closed their shops and factories, thus throwing out of employment 5000 men. Counting three dependent upon each, we have 15,000 persons cut off for the time being from their usual source of bread, beef and potatoes. The strike business is radically wrong. It is destructive in practice, and, therefore, cannot be right in principle.

WIGGINTON—P. D.—Patrick Denis, has been appointed "colonel" on the staff of Gov. Waterman. Wig. wasn't much of a "knunnel" in 1861 and 1862. At that time he tried to fiddle down the war, and to smirch the good name of Abraham Lincoln with ribald doggerel. As phosphorus appears in rotting fish, Wig.'s military aspirations shine out late in life.

THE Presidential party has completed its swing around the circle. After enjoying a big powwow at Montgomery, Ala., yesterday, the President and party boarded the train for Washington. Now then, that things are presumed to be set to rights in the land of hoecake, Grover is ready for the coming convention.

AMUSEMENTS.

A TIN SOLDIER.—The engagement of Hoyt's Tin Soldier Company opens at the Grand Opera-house on Monday evening, instead of Tuesday, as the dates on some of the bills mistakenly announce. The Tin Soldier is the Rag Baby's twin brother, and is said to be Hoyt's funniest and best play. It comes to us after two weeks of fine business in San Francisco, and indorsed by the entire press of that city. The cast is large and strong, and is headed by Eugene Canfield. He is ably assisted by Miss Kate Davis, the former fairy queen of Hanlon's Fantasmo; Thomas Q. Seabrooke, late of Nat Goodwin's company, Miss Isabelle Coe, Miss Emma Hagger, Miss Leona Fontainbleau, Miss Elvia Crox and others.

FRANK MAYO.—Mr. Mayo's successful engagement continues at the Grand Opera-house. Last night Nordeck was repeated to an appreciative audience. The rest of the week Davy Crockett will hold the boards.

Morrow's Trial Dragging Slowly Along—A Juror Gives Some Startling Testimony—Fire at Bay District Stables—Valuable Horses Burned—Other Coast News.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The latest news in the political line from Sacramento causes much interest here. A few days ago it was found that Senator Boggs, who is also acting as Prison Commissioner, had not qualified within the limit of the days prescribed by law. An examination of the records was made, and the statement is now heralded that Gov. Stoneman, who immediately preceded the late Gov. Bartlett, himself did not properly qualify. The consequences which, it is claimed, are to flow from this inattention on his part are simply amazing. W

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20.—[By the Associated Press.] Gov. Waterman was interviewed today in regard to the list he is having prepared of officers who have failed to qualify by filing oaths of office within ten days after election or appointment. He says he will do nothing toward their removal until after he has returned from his trip to the southern portion of the State, and will then act only after he has obtained the very best legal advice to be had.

MORROW'S TRIAL.

Hard Work to Extract Evidence from McCord.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—At the opening of the Morrow case this morning counsel for defense signified a willingness to resume argument on the question whether witness James McCord had a right to refuse to answer the question asked by prosecution yesterday, if he (McCord) was in a certain saloon with Morrow on May 25, 1888.

Judge Sullivan declined to hear the argument, and stated he was ready to decide that witness' position should be sustained and that he should not be compelled to answer, as testimony elicited would tend to criminate himself.

McCord was then asked if he had ever known Morrow to attempt to induce anybody on the Wright jury, or if Morrow, in the saloon referred to, in presence of himself and Northey, had authorized anybody to induce Juror Wood to bring in a verdict of not more than $2000. McCord declined to answer both questions, and also several others relative to the same subject.

McCord refused to state what connection he had with the Geary-street road, but acknowledged that he was superintendent of the Sutter-street road at the time of the alleged bribery. The remainder of his examination was taken up in questions in regard to the number and location of saloons in the neighborhood of his office. He was also asked the names of the proprietors and the business he had transacted with them, all of which questions he answered under protest.

THE TEMPTED JUROR.

H. H. Wood, a juror in the case of a Mrs. Florence Wright against the Gerry-street Railroad Company, was the next examined. He testified that on the morning that the jury was empaneled he received a visit at his house from Frank Northey, who told him that the idea was to bring in a verdict of not more than $2000, and if he (Wood) would "hang" the jury he would be paid $200, but he said that he (Northey) was receiving nothing for his trouble and thought he ought to get half. Witness stated that he met Northey afterward and told him that the amount was not enough, and the latter said that perhaps he could make it $250. Witness denied having ever had an interview with Morrow, but said that acting under Northey's instructions he had met James McCord at the Sutter-street Railroad depot and that McCord told him that the money was for him alone and not to be divided, and that any other jurors who would "stand in" would also be paid.

OLD MAN NORTHEY TESTIFIES.

Thomas F. Northey, father of Frank Northey, was placed on the stand and asked if McCord had ever sent him to see Morrow, to which he replied that he had not. Witness subsequently denied having ever had a conversation with McCord on the subject, and also that he saw Mr. Freidenrich pay his son the sum of money which the prosecution claims it would prove came from Morrow, to keep Northey's mouth shut. Witness also denied having admitted these facts before the Grand Jury and at the request of counsel for the prosecution the Court instructed the clerk to summon the Grand Jury to appear tomorrow.

YOUNG NORTHEY WILL NOT TALK.

Frank N. Northey was called and examined at length, but positively declined to answer the questions, on the ground that he would criminate himself. The questions all related to Northey's alleged employment by Morrow to bribe jurors in the Wright case, and among others he was asked if Morrow had not instructed him to tell Wood that if he got other jurors to "stand in" with him he would get $1000 per capita.

THE SHERIFF SNUBBED.

After adjournment of the court Judge Sullivan appointed Detective Hogan to take charge of the jury. Sheriff McMann walked up to the Judge and said: "Don't you intend to let me take charge of the jury?"

"No, sir," said Sullivan.

"Well, I am Sheriff, and I protest." McMann replied, to which the Judge answered:

"I don't care for your protest."

The matter was finally settled by allowing a Deputy Sheriff to remain with the jury.

NOTES FROM THE BAY.

Suit for Mining Stocks—The Colton Correspondence, Etc.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—[By the Associated Press.] Adolph Schander has brought suit against Mary A. Forbes et al., executors of the estate of Alexander Forbes, to recover three certificates of stock in the Silver Lick Mining Company of Nevada representing 12,646 shares, and $35,500 damages. Schander alleges that while he was out of the State, Forbes fraudulently deposited the certificates with one George L. Jordan as security for the payment of a promissory note for $2500. Plaintiff in the suit was at one time with Capt. John Adams, principal owner in the mine.

DEL CAMPO'S LINE FAVORED.

The local agents of the Del Campo Line of steamers have about finished preparation of the schedule of freights and fares. Cabin passage to Panama has been reduced to $72, second cabin to $43, and steerage $30. Rates for freight will range from $30 to $19 per ton to Panama, and corresponding prices for way points. Quite a quantity of freight has been secured by the new company, Spanish merchants and others showing a decided preference for a line operated by a Spanish nobleman.

THOSE COLTON LETTERS.

This afternoon at the session of the Circuit Court, Judge Sawyer dismissed the restraining order preventing Mrs. Ellen M. Huntington from showing the famous Colton letters to the Pacific Railroad Commission. The dismissal was at the request of McAllister & Bergin, the railroad's lawyers.

FIRE AT BAY DISTRICT STABLES.

Fire started tonight in the stables of the Bay District racetrack. Sixty or more stalls were burned, and four horses and a quantity of hay. The loss outside of the horses is probably not over $2000. The names of the horses cannot at present be learned.

The frightened horses pranced madly about. Many of them dashed toward the burning stalls, and then moved forward in a body, thus driving the terrified animals into the inclosure at the other end of the park. In the excitement tonight no one could tell what horses were missing. It is believed that Allan Roy owned by James McCord and a thousand dollar colt by Director, the property of J. D. Donathan, were lost.

LAXITY OR SOMETHING WORSE.

The Chronicle will tomorrow publish several columns of matter tending to show extreme laxity, if nothing else, in the number of cases dismissed in the Superior Court in the past four years. Four hundred criminal cases were dismissed between June 30, 1883, and June 30, 1887. The record shows that many of these cases were dismissed on motion of the District Attorney on the ground of want of evidence to convict, while as many more are entered as dismissed without any reason being assigned for their dismissal.

ON TRIAL FOR PERJURY.

R. J. Harrison, formerly of the firm of Harrison & Sherwood, was placed on trial in the United States District Court to-day, on a charge of perjury, in falsely swearing to an entry of certain goods in the custom-house.

LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

The insurance on the Fulton Iron Works, destroyed by fire last night, was about $100,000, and the insurance on the other buildings burned was about $18,000. The total loss by fire is about $350,000.

THOSE SEALERS.

Attorney General's Orders for the Release of the British Vessels—Why the Mandate Was Disregarded.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—[By the Associated Press.] The correspondence between the Department of Justice and its officers in Alaska in regard to the release of British vessels seized during the summer of 1886 for alleged violation of the seal fishery laws was made public today. The following is the text of the telegram directing the release:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26, 1887.—Judge Lafayette Dawson and M. D. Ball, United States Attorneys, Sitka, Alaska: I am directed by the President to instruct you to discontinue all further proceedings in the matter of the seizure of the British vessels Carolina, Onward and Thornton, and to discharge all vessels now held under such seizures and release all persons that may be under arrest in connection therewith.

[Signed] A. H. GARLAND, Attorney-General.

This was followed by a letter from Barton Atkins, United States Marshal at Sitka, dated September 20, 1887, in which he acknowledged the receipt of the above telegram, but says it was considered a fraudulent dispatch, notwithstanding which belief, however, Judge Dawson had delayed further proceedings in the cases and had written to the department for further instructions. Judge Dawson's letter has not been received at the department.

Under date of October 13, 1887, the Attorney-General sent a telegram to Marshal Atkins, at Sitka, granting him leave of absence to go to San Francisco for the purpose of selling about 2000 fur skins which were condemned and ordered sold by the court in Alaska last year, and which are now reported as being in a perishable condition. The telegram concludes as follows:

"Let the vessels Carolina, Onward and Thornton be released, as directed in my telegram of the 26th of January ult."

Then, under date of October 15, 1887, the Attorney-General mailed a letter to Marshal Atkins, in which he said:

"That there may be no misunderstanding as to the meaning of my telegram of the 12th inst., I repeat the instructions to release the vessels Carolina, Onward and Thornton, ordered to be released by my telegram to Judge Dawson and Attorney Ball, January 26th last."

Northern Pacific Affairs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The regular monthly meeting of the Northern Pacific Railroad directors was held today. The officials refused to disclose what business was transacted, but it is understood from other sources that the committee appointed to confer with the Union Pacific officials, reported in favor of a division of the territory at the mouth of the Columbia River, and the taking of the branch lines north of that point. They also reported that they believed that the Northen Pacific should join in the lease of the Oregon Navigation lines.

A Mining Manager Arrested.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Tribune tomorrow will say: "G. Francklyn, who was reelected president of the Horn Silver Mining Company today, was arrested late in the day on a warrant issued in a suit for $500,000 damages. He was taken to the Ludlow-street Jail, and at a late hour was still there. The suit grows out of the charge that Mr. Francklyn, as manager of Horn Silver Mining Company, misappropriated over $500,000 of the company's funds. Mr. Francklyn has said that the money was loaned to him."

For Improving Waterways.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 20.—The convention for the improvement of Western waterways assembled this morning, with about 300 delegates in attendance from all States situated on the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers. Hon. J. W. Clapp of Memphis was unanimously elected temporary chairman. Judge Clapp made a powerful speech, insisting upon the importance of securing Congressional aid, not only for the improvement of the Mississippi River, but of all navigable streams.

The Universalist Convention.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—At to-day's session of the Universalist General Convention, a committee recommended that after 1889, conventions be held biennially instead of annually, and that conferences be held in the intervening years to discuss morality, theology and education. The proposed new doctrine of faith was finally referred to the next annual convention.

The Employing Printers' Convention.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The Employing Printers' Convention devoted the greater part of today to discussing the nine-hour question. A permanent organization was effected, and officers elected as follows: President, Theodore L. De Vinne, New York; corresponding secretary, S. S. Lawson, St. Louis; recording secretary, James Davidson, St. Louis; treasurer, A. O. Russell, Cincinnati. The convention adjourned to meet in October, 1888.

The Unterrified Red River Valley.

ST. PAUL (Minn.), Oct. 20.—The Pioneer Press learns from Winnipeg that word has been received from Premier Norquay, now in New York, that he has closed a contract for the sale of $250,000 in Provincial bonds. This, with the $300,000 guaranteed by the city of Winnipeg, will enable the work to recommence on the Red River Valley road at once.

The Episcopal Congress.

A Noted Turf Man Falls Dead at the Race Course—A Brace of Railway Accidents Caused by Somebody's Blunder—An Iowa Tragedy.

By Telegraph to The Times.

MONTGOMERY (Ala.), Oct. 20.—[By the Associated Press.] President Cleveland arrived here at 8 o'clock this morning. The street from the station to the hotel, nearly half a mile, was lined by troops, who kept a wide avenue open. Gov. Seary, Mayor Reese and Col. Newman, president of the Agricultural Society, who composed the Reception Committee, conducted the guests at once to the hotel, where Senators Pugh and Morgan, members of the Governor's staff, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House, ex-Gov. O'Neil, Congressman Davidson and a number of ladies greeted the guests in the hotel parlors.

After breakfast the Presidential party reviewed the troops from the balcony of the hotel. There were about a thousand men in the column.

The President received a telegram from the Mayor of New Orleans stating that a company is on the way to ask that the trip be extended to that city. Col. Lamont replied that the President's imperative engagements made compliance with the request impossible.

MRS. CLEVELAND'S PRESENT.

After the review Mrs. Cleveland was the surprised recipient of a unique and beautiful souvenir, a jewel case in the form of a bale of cotton. It is made of pure silver and is a very artistic production. The inside of the cover bears the inscription:

"Presented to Mrs. Grover Cleveland by the Mayor and City Council as a token of their kind regard on the occasion of her visit to Montgomery, Alabama, October 20, 1887."

The presentation was made by Mayor Reese, in the name of the municipality. On arrival of the party at the fair grounds the welcoming address was delivered by Gov. Seary, to which the President replied.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

At 1 o'clock the Presidential party boarded a special train at the fair grounds and left for Washington.

DALTON (Ga.), Oct. 20.—The people of this region are not behind the Northwest in matter of bonfires. Rome, Ga., was all ablaze as the train slowly pulled through tonight. The President and Mrs. Cleveland stood on the rear platform, and the people had a good chance to see them. Piles of pine knots and torches were burning at all the way stations. The train passed Dalton about 11 o'clock and the tourists were about retiring.

THE TRANSCONTINENTALS.

Canadian Pacific and Pacific Mail the Disturbing Elements.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—[By the Associated Press.] The adjournment of the Transcontinental meeting was subject to the call of the chairman, and there still lingers a faint hope that another meeting may be held in the course of the month, at which more definite results may be reached. During the progress of the meeting it was found that not only was Canadian Pacific an obstacle in the way, but that the issue of joint tariffs to be maintained by all lines depended to a large degree upon the coöperation of Pacific Mail, which, at the present time, is also a disturbing element. The recent changes in the directors of the steamship company, held for some time that a renewal of old relations could be had, or at least a harmonious arrangement, which would abate in some degree the present unrestricted competition in through business. To determine this point, a committee of one from each of the interested lines, was appointed to go to New York and have a conference with the Pacific Mail officials. Should their errand result in showing that the steamship company will consent to a peaceful partition of business, on fair terms, then the general meeting will again be called by the chairman, and another effort will be made to form an association.

RAILWAY ACCIDENTS.

Collision of Trains—Several Persons Killed—Many Wounded.

CHARLESTON (S. C.), Oct. 20.—[By the Associated Press.] A freight train from Spartansburg and a passenger train from Atlanta collided three miles west of Grier's. The disaster was caused by the freight train not sidetracking at Grier's to let the passenger train pass. The passenger train consisted of nine coaches. Both engines were wrecked; also the postal, baggage and express cars of the passenger train, and the first three cars of the freight. Engineer Harris and Conductor Reville of the freight train disappeared. A negro reports that he saw them running through the woods. The killed are Mrs. Hamp McDonnell of Asheville, N. C., and Robert Ward, the passenger train engineer. Ten persons, passengers and train hands, were more or less seriously injured.

MANY PASSENGERS INJURED.

CHARLESTON (W. Va.), Oct. 20.—Shortly before noon today three coaches of the fast express on the Chesapeake and Ohio road, going west, were derailed by a defective switch, and two of them were turned completely over. Twenty-six passengers were more or less injured. None were killed outright. The injuries of several are serious and may result fatally.

POWDERLY'S OPINION.

Future Strikes Will Be Settled By Arbitration.

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.), Oct. 20.—[By the Associated Press.] Most of the delegates to the General Assembly of Knights of Labor have returned to their homes today. Mr. Powderly has gone to Milwaukee. His mission is understood to be to endeavor to conciliate the seceded Gambrinus assembly of brewers of that city. The coöperative board completed routine work today. It was resolved to ask the general executive board for $40,000, the appropriation made by the Richmond Convention, and for want of which the usefulness of the board is crippled.

Powderly in an interview expressed himself well satisfied with the result of the assembly. He says the abolition of the assistance fund particularly, will be very beneficial, as it will tend to take the premium off of strikes. He does not look for any serious labor troubles during the present year and says that if any difficulties do arise they will be settled by arbitration.

AN IOWA TRAGEDY.

Two Old Ladies Hacked to Death in Their Home.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—[By the Associated Press.] A special from Dubuque, Iowa, says: "The neighbors of Mrs. Catherine Beck, aged 82, and her daughter, Mrs. Eliza Ollinger, aged 56, who live alone in the upper part of the city, were aroused early this morning by cries of 'Murder!' proceeding from their residence. Hastening there, both women were found on the floor in a dying condition, with their heads frightfully gashed and beaten. Mrs. Ollinger's skull was fractured, and the flesh on her face was literally cut into strips by a sharp instrument. Mrs. Beck was able to speak a few words, but could give very little informa-

[illegible] about the assault. Mary Conlon, a former employé of Mrs. Beck, has been arrested on complaint of her son-in-law, John Marsh, and is suspected of having committed the crime.

SAD AFFAIR.

The President of the Memphis Jockey Club Drops Dead.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.), Oct. 20.—[By the Associated Press.] The programme arranged for today for the races was interrupted by a sad occurrence. The second race had just been finished when President Montgomery of the Jockey Club left for the judges' stand and proceeded to the club-house to welcome delegates to the Waterway convention. He had just finished speaking to the delegates when he fell back into the arms of a friend, dead from heart disease. The utmost excitement ensued and sad scenes were witnessed, his three daughters and son being present. In response to a unanimous request the judges declared the remainder of the races off, and a meeting of the club will be held tomorrow to decide whether or not to continue the meeting.

Dr. Johnson's Famous Old Residence Sold—Sad Stories of Shipwreck—Two Priests Massacred at Scutari—Notes from Berlin—Other Old World Affairs.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Gladstone received an address from the Irish residents of Nottingham today. Replying to the address, Gladstone expressed the conviction that the discord between Catholics and Protestants would cease when home rule was established in Ireland.

Gladstone arrived at Derby today, and addressed an audience of 40,000 persons in the Drill Hall. He was supported by Sir William Vernon Harcourt and Baron Wolverton. Mr. Gladstone said that their opponents were growing weaker, while their own forces were becoming stronger. He was accused of cooperating with those whom he once denounced as marching with rapine and murder toward the disintegration of the Empire. He did not believe that any Irish member of Parliament now contemplated or desired the dismembership of the Empire. They wanted a union of hearts and not a union on Parliament and paper. He flatly denied that his course was inconsistent. When told that he had passed coercion measures, he could only say that a measure such as was contested at the latest session of Parliament had never been passed while he was in office. Coercion had utterly failed. Instead of trying to drive disease inward, he believed the Liberals had found a plan which would by their home rule scheme solve the long formidable problem. It was said that Ireland consisted of two nations. Italy was once in the same condition, but the parties there coalesced and formed one United Kingdom. Why should Ireland not do the same? Gladstone said he believed the people of Ulster were simply laboring under a misunderstanding. They doubtless wanted an assurance that the connection between Ireland and England would be maintained. It was an utter mistake to suppose that any action of the Liberal party would have any other result. On leaving the hall Gladstone was heartily cheered.

LONDON MOBS STILL TROUBLESOME.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Socialists and unemployed persons made a demonstration today. The police charged and dispersed them after a sharp fight. One of the speakers unrolled and waved a red flag, crying, "The glorious Commune!" A section of the mob thereupon stampeded. Scores of persons in the crowd were thrown down and trampled upon. Those who stampeded reassembled later in another portion of the park. The crowd appointed a deputation to visit the Home Office. The Minor Secretary promised them that he would represent their views to the Home Secretary upon his return. A large crowd had followed the deputation from the park to the Home Office and congregated about the building.

A FAMILY FEUD.

Heirs to an Estate of a Million Without Means for Their Support.

[Philadelphia Record, October 26.]

About eleven years ago, Charles Clare, a well-known resident of Southwark, who had amassed considerable wealth and raised a large family of children, died and left all his property, amounting then to $450,000, to his wife, Elizabeth Clare, for life. The will, however, instructed her to look after her children and provide for them. Mrs. Clare is now about 75 years of age, resides at No. 1317 south Tenth street, and her children and grandchildren number nineteen. A bitter feud exists between the old lady and some of her family, and it is claimed that she is indulgent with some and neglectful of others. Two years ago the solicitor of the Board of Guardians of the Poor, had his attention directed to the condition of Mrs. Martha Smart, one of Charles Clare's children, who was living with a widowed sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Kammerly. Neither of these sisters is on friendly terms with the mother. Mrs. Smart is subject to epileptic fits, and being unable to provide for herself, Mr. Cavin put himself into communication with the mother, and she agreed to give her daughter $8 per week for her support. At that time the solicitor did not know of the value of the old lady's property. Since the death of Charles Clare, it is said, the estate has grown in value to about $1,000,000.

Some weeks ago Martha Smart went to the house of her mother and asked for money, explaining that she had to pay $1.50 per week for her room, and that $8 was not sufficient to maintain her. Words passed between them, and it is alleged that the mother caught the daughter by the throat, and that the latter was violently assaulted by her sister, Josephine, and her brother, John. A police officer was called in, and Mrs. Smart, with her face covered with blood, was taken before a magistrate and committed to the house of correction as an habitual drunkard on the testimony of her assailants.

The solicitor, ascertaining how his client had been treated, secured her discharge upon applying to the Board of Charities, and instituted against the mother, son and daughter criminal proceedings for assault and battery. For four weeks old Mrs. Clare refused to give Mrs. Smart anything for her support, and upon her applying for money to buy a pair of shoes she had her daughter again arrested and recommitted to the House of Correction upon the old charge. The lawyer was determined this time to have the matter passed upon by the Court, so he procured a writ of habeas corpus, and Mrs. Smart was brought before Judge Reed yesterday for a hearing. After listening to the testimony the Judge arrived at the conclusion that the relator had been wrongfully committed, and he released her. The discharged woman immediately proceeded to the grand jury room, and under her testimony a true bill of indictment was found against the mother, sister and brother. The solicitor intimated that he would shortly bring proceedings which would secure to his client sufficient funds out of the estate of her father for her support.

Ex-Senator Jones' Serious Illness.

[Anniston (Ala.) Hot Blast.]

Ex-Senator Jones of Florida is undoubtedly dying of brain disease. He was not a temperate man, but harmed himself more than any one else. In mind, as in physique, he was robust and masculine. Rising from humble life and honorable toil at the carpenter's bench, he became a great lawyer and noted United States Senator. His aberrations of mind were noticed some years ago, but did not become a public matter until he abandoned his seat in the "House of Lords" at Washington and camped out at Detroit. While Mr. Jones was presumed to be in pursuit of a Western heiress, we once asked a Senator what was really the matter with him. He said: "Jones is crazy on several subjects—on religion, on women, on liquor and the Constitution. It is a sad case." This unfortunate man had a lovable, genial, almost boyish temperament, allied to great strength of mind and body. He showed his metal by the progress made from the bottom of the ladder almost to the top.

Their Marital Squabble Ends in Pistol Shots.

Mrs. McDonald Fires Three Times at Her Father-in-Law.

One Bullet Takes Effect in the Old Gentleman's Forehead.

The Affair Occurs in the Baldwin Hotel—The Result of McDonald, Sr.'s, Refusal to Settle More Money on the Fair Shootist.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—[By the Associated Press.] About 9:55 this evening in the parlors of the Baldwin Hotel Mrs. Belle McDonald, wife of R. H. McDonald, Jr., vice-president of the Pacific Bank, attempted to shoot McDonald's father, R. H. McDonald, Sr. From facts as they can now be learned Mrs. McDonald had been in lengthy consultation with her father-in-law at the latter's room. They then repaired to the parlor of the hotel, when the conversation was continued. Soon Mr. McDonald spoke about it being late and he wished to retire. When about to leave the room Mrs. McDonald drew a pistol and fired at him. McDonald then seized her and attempted to take the pistol away, when she fired again. By this time she had fallen to the floor in the scuffle that ensued and McDonald in still attempting to grasp the pistol was on top. Mrs. McDonald then fired a third shot, this one taking slight effect in the forehead.

Guests of the hotel then rushed in and stopped further action. Mrs. McDonald was then taken to the city jail. She appeared cool and collected. On her person was also found a dagger. McDonald's injuries are very slight. The shooting is the outgrowth of the well-known marital troubles between Mrs. McDonald and her husband.

The direct cause of the shooting appears to be as follows: The conversation had in the main been amicable until about the time they were to separate, when Mrs. McDonald proposed to McDonald, Sr., that if he would settle $50,000 on her and $50,000 on her child, she would compromise out of court the pending divorce suit between herself and husband. If, however, McDonald, Sr., would not give these amounts she would kill him, her child and her husband. McDonald positively declined to give these amounts of money, saying that her husband, his son, had already given her more than $50,000. Upon his refusal to accept her proposition, she fired with the above results.

WIGS AND GOWNS

Peculiarities of Legal Practice in Europe.

At the nineteenth annual opening of the law college of the National University, Mr. Thomas Wilson delivered an address before the students on the "Peculiarities of Law and the Practice in Some of the European Countries."

The English judges, he said, wear black silk gowns similar to those worn by our Supreme Court judges. They wear huge white horse wigs, curled and full bottomed. The lawyers wear a similar gown and wig, except the latter finishes in a queue. The judges and lawyers of France and Belgium wear a similar dress, except the higher courts of France, in which the cap and gown are scarlet. A court-room in Holland was described, and the executioner's swords, one of which is now in the National Museum. Mr. Wilson described the manner of execution in France and the setting up and working of the guillotine. He showed how a criminal trial was conducted in France, particularly the interrogation of the accused by the President of the court. He argued against the secret examination of the accused made by the juge d'instruction, and the public interrogation by the President. But he also argued against the American system of shielding the accused from any examination. He advocated a middle course as best calculated to convict the guilty and clear the innocent—to compel the accused to give testimony in public before the Magistrate or Police Court immediately upon his arrest, and also upon his trial, the examination to be conducted by the District Attorney. He said our law is too tender toward the criminal. Certainty rather than severity, but celerity with either was desired. Why not take the best evidence to elicit the truth? Who knows better than the accused whether he is guilty or innocent? Then why not examine him as a witness? If he is innocent he will be glad to testify; if he is guilty why should he not be compelled to? If the law has any right to punish the guilty, why should it not have the right to examine him as a witness against himself? The prohibition was originated to prevent the torture of criminals to force a confession. Times have changed since then. There is no danger now. Mr. Wilson gave descriptions of notaries, marriage contracts, assaults, duels and lotteries, and finished with a comparison of European and United States systems of law education.

MRS PENTECOST CAMPAIGNING.

It Is Good for a Man Who Is Running for Mayor to Have a Wife.

The New York Sun says: Mrs. Pentecost, wife of the Rev. Hugh O. Pentecost, nominated by the United Labor party for Mayor of Newark, accompanies her husband in his campaigning. She is singularly pretty and jolly, and is always handsomely dressed. She tells the wives, sisters and sweethearts of the laboring men that "her hubby is the best boy alive." The other night when her pink cheek was adorned with a minute square of court plaster, and a brawny hand pointed to it, saying: "Excuse me, Mrs. Pentecost, but there is a little speck of dirt on your cheek," she laughingly replied:

"Bless you, my dear man, don't you know that I put that there to make me look beautiful?"

There was a general laugh at the dear man's mistake, but Mrs. Pentecost chirped out something comforting to him, and he soon laughed at his blunder.

A Nice Surgical Distinction.

[Detroit Free Press.]

Dr. M—— is a very enthusiastic surgeon and delights in cutting the defunct in the cause of his profession. He was lately called upon to attend a case at St. Mary's Hospital. A poor fellow had his face filled with bird shot and one arm nearly taken off. The Doctor had come directly from the dissecting room, and his head was full of his work there. Walking into the ward with both hands in his pockets, as is his way, he approached the bed.

"Is this the subject?" he asked briefly.

"No, doctor," the poor fellow answered, "I'm not a subject yet, I'm only an object," and he smiled comically.

The Doctor nodded grimly (he likes a joke, even at his own expense), but he gave an extra touch to his professional care for the witty patient.

CATARRH!
THROAT DISEASES, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA,
CONSUMPTION,
Together with diseases of the

Successfully treated by
M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.,
M. C. P. S. O.,
No. 275 North Main Street.
A few doors south of the new postoffice, Los Angeles, Cal.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

This has been demonstrated in thousands of cases treated by
DR. WILLIAMS,
With his new system of Medicated Inhalations combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold; indeed, he declares that he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another, and yet he is always exceedingly careful; it is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of Catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appears, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease, it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing, hoarseness at times occurs, a sensation of dryness is felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for instance, a hair, obstructed the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue, the breath lessens upon a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there was not room enough in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this time the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years, and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts that he will "by-and-by" recover. But this delusion is the grand error which has peopled our cemeteries with consumptive forms, as all forms of catarrh end finally in consumption.

Inhalations are applicable in all diseases of the respiratory organs, but must be prepared for each individual case as they severally require.

By the employment of proper inhalation in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to produce immediate and direct action upon the diseased surface in the pharynx and nasal passages, for air will find its way into the most remote and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every can be cured.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success.

The very best references from those already cured.

MURPHY MEANDERS.

A Perennial Fighter at Last Leaves Town.

John Murphy is a little English seaman who for the past three weeks has been doing nothing but getting drunk and serving time in the City Prison for the breaches of the peace committed by him while under the influence of liquor. Justice Austin has endeavored to give the young man a fair chance to get out of town, but in every instance he has refused to accept the opportunity offered, and has turned up in the dock the next morning after having been set at liberty. The last time he was before the Police Judge Murphy was sentenced to spend sixty days in the City Prison, but on his promise to go at once to San Pedro and ship on one of the vessels there his sentence was suspended. Yesterday morning John turned up again in his old place in the dock with the same charge entered against him. Justice Austin, after hearing his plea of guilty, this time sentenced him to pay a fine of $150 or spend 150 days in the City Prison. John entreated the Judge to give him one more opportunity as he had at last signed articles, and it was the cashing of his advance note that furnished him with the money on which to get drunk. This being the case he was released without bail to go after the money to pay his fine, the understanding being that if he did not return with the money, and was caught in the city after an hour had passed, he would have to spend 150 days in prison. John was last seen on the San Pedro road, going as fast toward that port as his legs would carry him.

FOWL PLAY.

Two Neighbor Women Rowing About Chickens.

Mrs. L. Clauson is the name of a German midwife on San Pedro street. She has as one of her neighbors the Widow McGraw. The widow and the midwife have been at outs for some time, the trouble originating with the widow's claim that Mrs. Clauson has been for some time stealing her chickens. This charge is denied by Mrs. Clauson, who states that Mrs. McGraw is a quarrelsome and badgering person. The war came to a crisis yesterday, when Mrs. McGraw swore out a warrant charging Mrs. Clauson with chicken-stealing. The quarrel will be fully ventilated in Justice Austin's court this morning.

Fixing for a Carnival.

There was another meeting of the ladies of Unity Church at the Pavilion last night to make further arrangements for the paper carnival, which is to be held in December. The attendance last night was very large, and much enthusiasm was manifested.

Unlicensed.

Officers Maguire and Mackell yesterday afternoon arrested Tom Cost and J. A. Winstead for violating the license ordinance. The accused both deposited cash bail, and were released to be on hand before Justice Austin this morning.

Important to Tax-Payers.

The beautiful Schumacher tract, lying on the south side of Pico street about 1,000 feet this side of terminus of the electric road, has been recently sold to a syndicate who are now offering the same in lots at low prices, $300 and upwards, on easy terms. This tract, on account of its proximity to the center of the city, being only thirty minutes' ride from First street, on a car line already constructed and running, not promised in the dim future, its 5-cent fares, its high elevation, its fine mountain views, its surety of increase in value, being in the course of the natural growth of the city, and above all, its being already a center, with a postoffice station located and a church soon to be built, offers more inducements to investors than any in the market today, a fact recognized by one of our shrewdest real-estate men, who on first sight secured a block. Free carriage or free tickets on the electric road will be furnished to any one desirous of purchasing.

PASADENA, (Cal.), Jan. 25, 1887.—This is to certify that I am 47 years of age and have stammered over forty years. I have been under the instruction of some of the ablest instructors with the hope of being cured of my affliction without ever receiving any relief. I am now pleased to state that after four months' instruction under Prof. J. Whitehorn, in Los Angeles, I experience but little of my impediment, and can now talk well. I think he has a perfect method of treatment which will apply to all stammerers, and recommend him as one of the ablest and most successful instructors I have ever met. SMITH JAMES,

WE NEVER SLEEP!

Moss & Ward,

—AT—

134 N. MAIN STREET,

Therefore it's a chilly day when we get left to offer bargains to investors.

Do you want a choice lot for a home by the sea, which commands one of the finest views of the ocean on both sides, Los Angeles and the mountains for a front view? Every day is a panorama. No fogs. If so, we have some choice lots to offer FOR A FEW DAYS, Size 8x150 to 15 foot alley. Price $100; $50 cash, balance $10 per month, without interest, at our beautiful townsite of MEADOW PARK. We have gone to a great expense and had one of the best artists in California paint a view of

MEADOW PARK

Showing the surroundings and lay of the land, which is as natural as life itself. The above is in our office for your inspection.

INVESTORS, LOOK AT THIS!

We know of no better place for a good investment than our new subdivision of FLORENCE. Why? Because she stands without a peer in her matchless beauty of scenery and climate. The soil is noted far and wide for its productiveness. For a home in the suburbs we know of no better location.

FLORENCE

Is at the junction of the Southern Pacific and Los Angeles and Santa Ana Railroads, less than six miles from the new Los Angeles depot and has no less than eight trains daily, which makes accommodations to and from FLORENCE unsurpassed for a home or business.

We have made the price very low for a starter, so "First come, first served." $225 and upwards; ¼ cash; balance in six and twelve months. Clear, pure, sparkling water piped in front of each lot. To the purchasers building the first ten houses in our tract a discount of one-half the purchase price of the lot will be given.

NEXT! NEXT!

"THE PEER OF ALL"

ALDINE SQUARE

Tracts laid out in Los Angeles, Cal.

ALDINE SQUARE will be a place "Of the people, for the people, by the people." The whole tract of ALDINE SQUARE lies between Alameda street and Santa Fe avenue. Its accommodations for going to and from ALDINE SQUARE are not excelled in Los Angeles.

The facilities for reaching ALDINE SQUARE are unsurpassed. The electric road on Santa Fe avenue, running in front of ALDINE SQUARE, and the Southern Pacific Railroad, with its new and adopted passenger station named Aldine Square Station, located corner Jefferson and Alameda streets (all regular passenger trains will stop), makes rapid transit in reaching the center of the city in a few minutes, while the fare on either line will be only FIVE CENTS—5 cents.

For a home this charming tract, away from the turmoil and bustle of the city, surrounded as it is with its orange and walnut groves, is an elysium of comfort, a veritable Garden of Eden.

—PEERLESS—

ALDINE SQUARE

Because it has no key lots, and every lot has the perpetual right for the use of the PARK, which, with its fountain, gravel walks, lawn tennis courts, drives and arbors, makes it the most desirable place to live.

ALDINE SQUARE

—FOR TEN DAYS—

Lots sold at the very low price of $200 and upwards; ¼ cash, balance in six and twelve months, the present schedule price. After the expiration of ten days the price will be advanced 25 per cent.

The surprise of all is that every one so far that has seen ALDINE SQUARE has purchased, which speaks for itself. We will be pleased at any time to show ALDINE SQUARE

Land and Water Company.

29,000 Acres 29,000

—OF—

THE BEST CITRUS LAND IN THE STATE!

Offered for sale in twenty-acre blocks, and can be bought in five, ten, fifteen or twenty-acre subdivisions.

Lytle Creek Water Piped on Each Lot.

Avenues 150 Feet in Width Traverse the Tract.

Water Furnished from a Covered Cement Ditch.

This land lies on the elevated plain directly west of San Bernardino city. The plain is a vast elevated table-land, with just enough of gentle undulation to break the monotony of the landscape.

Owing to the elevation, frost is practically unknown. Flowers in myriads bloom during the winter, the tenderest tomato sprigs are unscathed by frost, and the orange blossoms bloom in beauty throughout the winter. The view is one of the noblest and most picturesque in Nature. Each twenty-acre lot has a fine road at each end.

There are 29,000 acres in this tract, but 10,000 acres only are as yet surveyed. The town, RIALTO, is located near the center of this 10,000-acre tract and on the California Central.

The California Central and the Southern Pacific both traverse this great tract, and in all probability the Southern Pacific's parallel route will soon add a third railroad to this princely citrus tract. The western line of the tract is about two miles distant from the San Bernardino Courthouse.

The plain grows as fine oranges as the world has ever seen and the finest quality of citrus fruit generally, as buyers can see for themselves. There is no better raisin grape land in California. In fact all sub-tropical productions flourish to perfection.

For a Sanitarium

No spot in the country offers so many natural advantages as that sightly bench of land in the Duarte commonly known as the

"GEARY RANCH."

There is here found a rare combination of those sanative conditions indispensable to the successful treatment of throat and lung affections. The location is absolutely above the extreme fog limits. The chill of night and early morning hours is tempered by radiated warmth from the mountains that tower behind in close proximity. The heat of day is moderated by the natural conditions insured by an elevated and exposed situation. The magnificent mountains in the rear afford an effectual barrier against north winds, and from their deep ravines an abundant supply of pure spring water is obtained. A background of rugged mountains, a broad expanse of fertile valley below, with a strip of ocean shimmering beyond, combine to form scenery at once grand and beautiful in its diversified loveliness. The site is within a half hour's drive from the railroad station and over an excellent road of easy grade, by groves and vineyards and through a pretty live oak canyon in which not a trace of sand-wash is visible.

This valuable property, comprising in all 140 acres, will be sold as a whole, or a site for a sanitarium or mountain hotel. Can be secured on very advantageous terms, providing the parties will erect thereon buildings of a certain value.

For terms and further information apply at the office of

BUSINESS.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
LOS ANGELES, Thursday, Oct. 20.

Trading in Wheat and Barley is very dull at San Francisco, and prices tend downward.

A recent circular from George Meade & Co. of San Francisco has the following on Raisins:

For a number of years California Raisins have been sold East below their true value, but if packers and producers of first-class Raisins this year will be firm they will realize the full value of their goods. The time has passed when Raisins from California will be sold all the way from 15 to 50 per cent. under a Malaga Raisin, that is no better—if it is as good. We refer, of course, to first-class California Raisins, well graded and uniformly packed. Certain brands of California Raisins which have already reached New York this year, of the new crop, have been pronounced there by the largest dealers as superior to the Malaga fruit, and such brands are bringing prices equal to, and in some instances above, the imported goods. Were it not for the senseless offers of packers here, who, in their anxiety to sell, deliberately cut prices without any reason, every good lot of Raisins packed here this year could be sold fully up to the Malaga.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Money on call was easy at 3 to 4 per cent.; last loan, 3½; closed offered, 3.

Prime mercantile paper, 6@8 per cent.

Sterling exchange, dull but steady at 4.81 for 60-day bills; 4.85 for demand.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The stock market today was active and strong all way, out, the net result of trading being that decided and uniform advances were recorded over the entire list. The improvement in confident feeling was very pronounced, and many of the room traders who have been acting with bears, today changed sides, which was of material influence in improvement. Gould stocks were the leaders of the rise in the forenoon, and were soon joined by the Northern Pacific and Oregon stocks on negotiations now in progress to adjust the difficulties among these roads. As the day advanced the buying became of a better character and spread to all prominent stocks. The close was active and strong at highest prices reached with but few exceptions.

Government bonds were dull but firm.

50 Miles East of Riverside and San Bernardino; 100 Miles East of Los Angeles.

NO FROST! NO FOGS! NO HEAVY WINDS! 700 FEET ABOVE sea level! A winter paradise! The home of the banana, date and orange. Wild dates ripen in profusion in an adjoining cañon. Only spot in California where frost, fog and windstorms are absolutely unknown. The earliest season in the State. Best opportunity for men of moderate means. Every fruit and vegetable matures a month to six weeks earlier than anywhere else on the Coast. In a shelt'red spot at the base of the San Jacinto Mountains lies Palm Valley, famous all over the southern part of the state as being the location of the Agua Caliente Springs, whose waters are an absolute specific for rheumatism and a host of other diseases. The soil of the valley is remarkably fertile, and it has been demonstrated that every fruit and vegetable will mature in this favored spot a month or more in advance of any other place. There is a LA PRESA!

The Beautiful Swiss Village on Lake Como

BEING REPRODUCED IN SAN DIEGO.

The most novel thing yet undertaken in the development of this southern country is now being done at LA PRESA, nine miles from San Diego. The plan is to reproduce in that delightful spot the counterpart of the celebrated Swiss village on Lake Como, in Northern Italy. To this end a railroad is being built to the place, and a fine modern hotel is to be erected at once. The situation is most delightful; far enough removed from the sea to escape rough winds, yet near enough to be always cool. With pure water, fine scenery, and the best of soil, LA PRESA is just the place to invest for a quick turn with big profits. LA PRESA is sure to grow rapidly, as it has all the elements to attract a select class of settlers.

ON A STILL HUNT.

DETECTIVE GODDARD OF CHICAGO CHASING CLEWS.

His Lucid Explanation of the Object of His Visit to This City With Sundry Diagrams and Figures—Interesting "Pointers."

A large, thick-set man, whose dress and manner indicated prosperity, sat in one of the comfortable chairs of the St. Elmo sitting-room yesterday. A TIMES reporter, happening into the hostelry in quest of news, easily recognized in the portly individual an old acquaintance.

"Is not this Mr. Perry Goddard?" querried the newsgatherer.

"That is my name," answered the gentleman, "but I thought that I had left my identity in Chicago. But as you seem to know me, will you kindly refresh my memory and introduce yourself." The introduction being satisfactory, Mr. Goddard unbosomed himself. He talked freely, but never indiscreetly. He doesn't look it, but is one of the principal of a corps of efficient detectives in the employ of the Pinkertons. He is attached to the Western house at Chicago, and in appearance is the very antithesis of the keen-eyed, reticent individual that the average dime romancer makes the hero of his story.

"What is the object of your trip to this city?" asked the reporter.

"It's a great case, which brings me here," said he in reply. "There has been nothing more important since the time that that fellow in Chicago had his life insured with nearly every company in that city and then pretended to die in a small country town of Indiana. He had secured a corpse and left it in his room at the hotel. It was regularly certified that the corpse was that of the man who had taken the room and his relatives took charge of the body. He was however, indiscreet enough, when he had gone away, to write to his affianced. It is the correspondence between a criminal and his girl which usually leads to his detection, and by means of this correspondence we traced the man to South America, where he now is."

"But," here put in the reporter, "you have not yet stated what is the object of your visit to Los Angeles."

"Wait a moment. I'm coming to that. The most troublesome cases which detectives have to unravel, are damage suits against corporations, and breach-of-promise cases. Here is a sample which occurred in Chicago. One day a laborer was going to work, and passing under a railroad bridge, a careless workman let a piece of timber fall, which struck him on the neck and shoulders. He got a scalp wound and a few bruises, but sustained no serious injury. A lawyer got hold of him and persuaded him to bring a suit for $20,000 damages. Instead of doing as instructed, he went on a royal tear. The lawyer found him and hustled him into a garret over a saloon, and practically made him a prisoner. We found out where he was and I set out to get him. I went disguised into the saloon over which he had been imprisoned, one night, and pretending to get very drunk, was carried into a room directly over the one occupied by the claimant. After I had been left alone, I climbed down the ladder, opened a trap door, and found the man I was after. I was disguised as a seaman, and the man not suspecting my identity, told me how and why he had been made a prisoner. I persuaded him to climb down the fire-escape, promising to take him to sea with me and reward him liberally. Once outside, I conducted him to the office of the railroad company and there he was offered $500 if he would sign a release of all claims against the company. He signed the document readily and went home happy. Had he brought suit he might have gotten all that he demanded in his action."

"But how about the object of your visit to this city?" again broke in the reporter.

"We're slowly coming to that," said the man-hunter smilingly. "Let me tell you more about accident suits. One night a man was going home in Chicago and fell part way through a hatchway in front of a house, owned by a woman of comparatively modest means. He went home, immediately commenced a suit for damages, claiming that in his fall he had been paralyzed in his lower limbs, which paralysis he would probably carry to the grave. I was consulted to ferret out the mystery, and hired a physician to make an examination of the man. The examination was made, and it was found that the man actually did suffer from what appeared to be paralysis. I did not give the case up, and looking one day in the window of the house where he was supposed to be suffering with the incurable disease, I observed him, sewing stitches in his limbs, as I thought. He did not observe me watching him, and upon looking closer I easily saw what the work was which seemed to interest him so thoroughly. He was inoculating morphine and chloroform into his system with an electric needle. I went into the house, told him what I had seen, and threatened that if he did not sign a full receipt for his claim I would prosecute him for conspiracy. He signed the receipt, and the woman who was thus saved a heavy damage suit was profuse in her gratitude. Now I am not interested in the Harlan murder or the mysterious disappearance of Ed Wood, but the Yocum case has rather aroused my curiosity—" and before the astonished scribe could bring his pump to play to further advantage upon his victim, Mr. Goddard had jumped on an Olive-street horse car, and smilingly waved his hand from the rear platform at his astonished questioner.

It can be stated upon good authority, however, that the gentleman's visit to this city and section is to unravel the mystery of a certain locally celebrated case. He has positive clews, and expects to solve the mystery in a few days.

Estray Children.

The boy George Lewis, sentenced to a term in the Boys' and Girls' Home in San Francisco for stealing some clothes from Mr. Weyse, three weeks ago, returned home yesterday with the complaint that on his arrival at San Francisco there was no one to meet him and conduct him to the home. His mother now promises to see that he behaves better for the future, so he will be allowed to remain at home while he behaves.

Special Officer M. V. Wright yesterday took to the Orphans' Home the boy José Swift, who has run away from home so many times, and gone to live with strangers, against the wish of his mother.

Officer Wright also took to the Catholic Orphans' Home a little girl named Maggie Seames, who has been taken care of by the same woman who has been looking after Swift, but who is now too poor to give her attention to either of them.

Guilty of Assault.

Sylvestre Altamirano, one of the township constable's deputies, was yesterday tried in Justice Austin's court on a charge of disturbing the Peace near No. 400 Buena Vista street on September 29th. From the evidence adduced, it appears that Altamirano has been living with a woman of easy fame on Buena Vista street, and this action on the part of an officer has been the cause of much criticism on the part of the neighbors. Mrs. Amanda Rogers appears to have been in the front line of the critics, and Altamirano made her the subject of an attack on the day mentioned, on which occasion he pulled her by the arm, threatened her arrest and used language unbecoming an officer and gentleman in a loud and boisterous manner. Four witnesses swore as to the offence committed by the defendant, and their stories were almost the same in every respect. Altamirano in defense of himself entered a total denial of the whole affair, but as his explanation was thin, the justice had no alternative but to find him guilty as charged and will sentence him this morning at 9 o'clock.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Value of Lands.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] The senseless cry that Los Angeles county is "sowing the wind to reap the whirlwind," by booming her lands and creating artificial values, is both senseless and untrue. The observer who will coolly overlook the markets, both in realty and its products, will see that fruit, nut and alfalfa lands can be purchased today for one-half their actual value. The value of land is estimated upon the amount of interest it will return. "R. S.," in his letter from Westminster in this morning's TIMES, gives the yield of potato land at $300 per acre, and says, "Why is not the land worth $1000?" Now, a yield of $80 per acre would make the value of the land $1000, and here we have two and one-half times $80; hence, why is not the value of the land two and one-half times $1000? Let us call the value double, setting aside $500 per acre for cultivation and incidental expenses. Then we have potato land giving 8 per cent. interest on $2000 per acre. In the same article "R. S." shows that $60,000 have been recently invested in these lands, none of which sold for more than $200 per acre. When one year's crop of potatoes would pay for the purchase, and also in full view of the fact that twenty-six first prizes were awarded to this section in the recent fairs for best oranges, Japanese persimmon, other fruits and vegetables. These are a few items from a locality which, we are told, a few years ago was considered, as to quality of land, anything but first-class. We respect the skill that has brought this harvest. Let us consider orange land, for example. It is a minimum yield that gives $400 per acre; next there are walnut orchards in Los Nietos that have given a crop worth $1000 per acre, and yet an owner would be considered insane to ask $500 for an acre of orange or walnut land to be so cultivated. The common verdict is when land sells for $200 an acre it will not pay to raise fruit. It does pay, and pays well, for the ordinary fruits and vegetables will pay interest and taxes on an average price of $1500 per acre. But understand me the land will not do all the work. This is under careful cultivation, with best methods and varieties of seed. Intelligent care must be given, and nowhere will it bring a larger return than when applied to the soil of this county.

Ordinary alfalfa land will give seven cuttings a year—each cutting one ton—on the ground. This will sell for $8 per ton. Fifty-six dollars per year from ordinary alfalfa land, which is interest and taxes on $700, an acre. There is at El Monte extraordinary alfalfa land, which, without irrigation, gives fourteen tons a year to the acre; at $8 per ton, gives $112 an acre yield, which is interest on $1400 per acre, and this land is held by the owner at the high figure of $500. I will say, on the other hand, there are men in every locality I mention who will show you that a man grows poorer each year who raises fruit. There is but one reply. Look at the condition of the places. These croakers are one step below the man who hid his talent in a napkin. They can take good money (greenbacks or notes) and bury it in a napkin, and after a season, dig it up and find the money consumed by decay, when they flaunt the napkin in one's face and say: "I told you so, money is not even safe in a napkin!" This country has too many of this sort. What is needed is men who can look into the future; men who can comprehend the fact that the wealth of a country is what its soil will yield; men who do not fear panics, so long as inflated values are attached to country town lots, and only there.

Let Eastern purchasers bear in mind that the returns we mention are products of the native soil, without artificial fertilization. Also let buyers remember that the best lands will never be bought for less money than at the present time. Southern California fruit lands will steadily advance. The best orange and walnut lands, without a tree, are today worth $1000 per acre.

ORANGES AND LEMONS.

THE SUPPLY FROM CALIFORNIA, FLORIDA AND LOUISIANA.

Italians Alarmed Lest This Country Cease to Import Oranges and Lemons—The Amount Consumed by Americans.

[New York Mail and Express, Oct. 8th.]

The official bulletin of the Minister of Agriculture and Commerce of the Italian Government, containing an elaborate report on the rapid increase of the product on of oranges and lemons in this country and the effect on the market for Italian fruit, has just been received. The report is made by the Italian Consul-General in this country, and is based on information furnished by Louis Contencin of this city, and fruit dealers and growers in all parts of the United States. The acreage already planted with orange trees is stated as being 20,000 in California, 80,000 in Florida and 3000 in Louisiana; and of lemons, Calif rnia 5000 and Florida 10,000. The acreage adapted to the cultivation of the fruit and not in use is placed at 500,000 in California and considerable in Florida and Louisiana. The number of orange trees now planted is 2,000,000 in California, 3,000,000 in Florida and 1,000,000 in Louisiana. Of lemon trees there are 250,000 in California and 300,000 in Florida. The trees will produce from three to five boxes of fruit each, and will last from fifty to 100 years.

The estimated crop for this year is 1,000,000 boxes of oranges and 100,000 boxes of lemons in California, 1,100,000 boxes of oranges in Florida, and 600,000 boxes of oranges in Louisiana. Next year's crop is estimated at 1,500,000 boxes of oranges and 300,000 boxes of lemons in California, 2,000,000 of oranges and 100,000 boxes of lemons in Florida, and only 30,000 boxes of oranges in Louisiana, on account of heavy frosts last winter. When the trees now planted are in full fruitage, which will be five years hence, the crop will be, in California, 6,000,000 boxes of oranges and 1,000,000 boxes of lemons, in Florida 10,000,000 boxes of oranges and 1,000,000 boxes of lemons, and in Louisiana 500,000 boxes of oranges.

THE CALIFORNIA ORANGE

is superior to the Italian fruit. It is preferred for its aroma, taste and color. The Florida orange, and also that of Louisiana, is much sweeter and finer flavored than any foreign fruit. The report then states that in about three or four years this country will grow all the oranges she can consume, and not many years later the same will be true of lemons. The attention of the commercial world is called to the gradual coming to an end of the grape and raisin importations from Spain to this country, and this is cited as a warning to prepare for the time when the United States will supply all her own wants.

A Mail and Express reporter called on Mr. Contencin, of the firm of Frederick S. Robinson & Co. of this city, and learned that the enormous prices obtained for oranges and lemons at the close of the civil war set the Italian producers wild and encouraged them to largely increase the cultivation of these fruits, at the expense of other products. These prices also induced orange and lemon tree planting in Florida, Louisiana and California. "The boom in oranges," said Mr. Contencin, "resulted in much wild speculation in Florida, and many thousands of trees were set out in soil not suitable, and of course they will not bear."

CONSUMPTION OF FRUIT.

"The capacity of Americans for consuming oranges and lemons seems to be unlimited," said one of the leading [illegible] of these fruits to the reporter. "The [illegible] and lemons produced in Florida and California even in the West Indies do not as yet begin to satisfy the demand. The main supply comes from the Mediterranean, and is brought by steamer to this city, Boston, Philadelphia and New Orleans. The fruit comes from the ports of Palermo and Messina, on the Island of Sicily, and Sorrento, Catania and Naples, in Italy. There are over one hundred steamers now engaged in the traffic, and each one carries on an average 20,000 boxes each trip. The regular lines of steamers are specially constructed so that the cargo is well ventilated, but the tramp steamers have not these provisions and occasionally a whole cargo arrives in such condition that it is a practical loss. The shippers are almost entirely Italians, and their shrewdness is shown by their sending their sons over here a few years ago to take clerkships in commission-houses and learn the business. The sons are now in business for themselves, and the green fruit trade is gradually but surely being monopolized by Italians. During the busy season there is usually a steamer arriving every day, and some days two or three of them. The fruit arrives every month in the year, the smallest quantity during the winter months and the largest in the early summer. In one month last summer the receipts were 500,000 boxes of oranges and lemons, and the total receipts this year will reach 2,250,000 boxes at this port alone, and the other ports will take 1,000,000 more."

BY AUCTION.

"How is such a quantity of perishable fruit sold?"

"By auction. That is the only way. When a steamer leaves the other side the shippers send by cable the marks and number of boxes in each lot to the commission-houses, who are the consignees here. A catalogue is made out in advance, and when the steamer arrives the sale is announced. Skilled longshoremen unload the fruit and pile it in separate tiers of each line or mark. Several boxes of each line are opened for inspection, and the jobbers arrive, examine it thoroughly and note the condition and quality of the fruit on the margin of the catalogues for reference at the sale."

A red flag hanging in front of a large building in Broad street indicates that a sale is taking place. A fruit auction brings together a remarkable gathering of men. On an inclosed platform is the auctioneer and half a dozen clerks. Throughout the room are 300 buyers. They are brokers who buy for out-of-town purchasers, jobbers who buy for the city trade and for shipping to interior points, and peddlers who sell the fruit in the streets. By the side of men whose checks for $100,000 are good are men who carry their whole capital in their pockets and are obliged to pay for the fruit before delivery.

goes off with lightning rapidity. The auctioneer, with a voice in moments of excitement like a foghorn, and at other times as mild as that of a child, reads his customers like a book. He works them up to the highest point, and knows the instant that they have done. He sells 15,000 boxes an hour, and it is all the buyers and the half dozen clerks can do to follow him. The auction business has outgrown the present facilities, and a fine new building is now being constructed. It occupies two lots, fronting on State and Bridge streets, and will be finished in November.

After the sale the buyers send nearly 250 trucks to the wharf and haul away their fruit. Within two days of the arrival of a steamer the fruit is generally unloaded, sold and removed. Sometimes the receivers hold the vessel for a day or two waiting for better prices, but this is very risky, owing to the perishable nature of the fruit and the fact that the brokers know the reason of the delay and will not be influenced by it.

Do Not Miss

Going to see the fine lots in the George Dalton, Sr., tract. This is central property and for sale at one-half its worth. Go and take a free ride with Charles Victor Hall at 2 p.m.; only one-fourth cash, balance on time; save rent.

TWO FRIENDS MEET.

"Hello! old fellow. What have you been doing to yourself? You look like a subject for the undertaker," exclaimed the man on the right.

"I have been taking mercury and potash mixtures until they have nearly ruined me," squeaked the old man on crutches.

"And I," said the other, "have been taking the genuine Swift's Specific, which has built me up from the first dose."

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC.

Nature's own remedy, made from roots gathered from the forests of Georgia. The method by which it is made was obtained by a half-breed from the Creek Indians, who inhabited a certain portion of Georgia, which was communicated to one of the early settlers, and thus the formula has been handed down to the present day. The demand has been increasing until a $100,000 laboratory is now necessary to supply the trade. A foreign demand has been created, and enlarged facilities will be necessary to meet it. This great Turkish and Russian baths; also Electric, Sulphur and Eucalyptus baths. Dr. Robbins has had several years' experience in the Australian colonies, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver, and five years in Los Angeles; and hundreds of leading citizens can testify to the wonderful effects of electricity in curing cases of chronic diseases when all else had failed, and therefore all persons suffering should try this new remedy before abandoning all hope. After every medical treatment the patients are given the Massage treatment by persons of their own sex. The doctor diagnoses diseases, without explanation from the patient. His office hours are from 9 to 12, 1 to 5 and 7 to 9.

IMPORTANT

OWNERS AND BUYERS OF REAL-ESTATE!

THE OFFICIAL CALL LIST

—OF THE—

LOS ANGELES Real-Estate and Stock Exchange

—IS ISSUED DAILY—

For Free Circulation.

The CALL LIST contains descriptions of improved and unimproved real-estate and securities listed by authority, and offered for sale to bidders willing to pay a fair market price. These properties are bought or sold only on commission by responsible real-estate brokers, bound by the rules and regulations of the Exchange to protect their customers against misrepresentation, fraudulent or defective titles, extortion in prices, and the thousand and one tricks of unscrupulous and irresponsible dealers.

The principal function of the Exchange is to establish and maintain real-estate values in the mutual interest of both buyer and seller. This can only be accomplished by actually closing transactions in open session of the Exchange and making a public record of the bids, of the prices asked by holders, and of the sales, by which means stability is given to the real-estate market, and the fullest protection is extended to all parties concerned.

Those who have property for sale, listed on the Exchange, are guaranteed the full market value of their real-estate, of which they have no assurance without the facilities which a well-regulated Exchange always affords to investors.

Intending buyers are secured against extortion, by the daily publication of the Real-Estate Exchange quotations on all classes of property, without which information they are frequently induced to pay far more than the actual market value of the property purchased.

The rules and regulations and blank forms of the Los Angeles Real-Estate and Stock Exchange have been copyrighted, and all persons infringing such copyrights will be proceeded against according to law.

The lobby of the Board Room, at No. 15½ South Spring street, next to the Nadeau House, is free to the public. Two sessions of the Exchange are held daily, at 10:30 o'clock a.m. and 3 o'clock p.m.

The Official Call List is distributed free by the Exchange messengers, or can be had free on application to the Secretary, at the office of the Exchange, No. 15½ South Spring street, or to any member of the Exchange, to whom all intending investors or home-seekers are respectfully referred for full, accurate and reliable information as to values, terms and conditions of sale and all other details relating to the properties duly listed on the Exchange.

OVERLAND.

ACROSS THE CONTINENT ON A BICYCLE.

A Long Ride From the Atlantic to the Pacific—Experiences by the Way—Mr. Gray's Famous Ride—Notes and Incidents.

[San Francisco Bulletin.]

On October 4th there arrived in this city, without any great flourish of trumpets, a young man who had achieved a feat that a few years ago would have been thought impossible, and which has been successfully accomplished by only two others previously, namely, a bicycle ride from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast. Mr. Gray, the adventurous rider, is a young man, and his trip has been one of pleasure solely, his idea being to see as much of the country as possible, and for that reason he made many detours from the direct route, in order to visit points of attraction on the way. his trip having taken a little over four months.

The start was made from New York on June 1st, and Boston was the first objective point, after which he proceeded directly to Chicago, a portion of the trip being made by rail. On June 13th he left the latter city in company with Mr. Nellis, who arrived in this city some three months ago, having wheeled across the continent. He did not continue long in company with the latter gentleman, however, as he was in no particular hurry, while Nellis was engaged in breaking the record of the original 'cross-continent bicycle rider. From Chicago he proceeded to Omaha and from there to Lincoln, Neb., traveling through the States of Kansas and Colorado, visiting Pike's Peak, the Hot Springs and other points of interest, and finally reaching Denver, whence he traveled back to the line of the Union Pacific road. At Ogden another détour was made, and Mr. Gray visited Salt Lake City, where he passed a few days sight-seeing and gaining an insight into the Mormon question.

Proceeding from Salt Lake the Territory of Wyoming and the State of Nevada were passed through, and here were found the worst roads met with on the trip, the sand in many places being so deep that for miles at a time he was obliged to dismount and push the bicycle before him. This was particularly the case in the vicinity of Reno and Ogden. This side of the Sierra the roads were found to be in good condition, though at times rather dusty. On the arrival of Mr. Nellis he stated that he found the worst roads in the immediate neighborhood of Sacramento, but Mr. Gray does not bear out this statement, in fact, he found the roads in California fully equal to Eastern roads. On October 11th he arrived in this city, and after resting for a day or two, he made a trip to the Big Trees, proceeded by boat and rail to Milton, and there taking to his bicycle. On his return he rode as far as Stockton, and then took the boat back to the city, arriving yesterday morning.

Regarding the park roads for bicycle riding he considers them to be equal, if not superior, to the bicycle paths in Eastern parks, one point of vantage being the rolling hills, which admit of coasting, thus giving the rider an occasional rest, the extra work required in riding uphill being more than compensated for by the coasting downhill. At no time on his journey did Mr. Gray hurry himself, and no attempt was made to break any records. His diary, however, shows that some good runs were made, as, for instance, the first eighty miles out of Kansas City, which distance was made in ten hours. Mr. Gray returned East by train yesterday afternoon, departing by the Southern route, but he expects to stop over at different places along the line and explore the country on his bicycle.

LUDES OF EASTERN EUROPE.

Bungarian, Bulgarian, Grecian, Albanian and Persian.

[New York Sun.]

The Bulgarian or Roumelian dude incases the lower portion of his body in pantaloons of a gray, blankety-looking material, tight-fitting about the knees and calves, but with bell bottom profusely adorned with black braid and which almost hides his feet. The seat of the pantaloons hangs down to his knees and wobbles from side to side as he walks along. The front of the legs is also adorned with black braid figures and artistic curves. Around his waist is a voluminous red kammerbund or sash, many yards in length, encircling him in its folds a dozen times. To put this garment on properly requires the aid of an assistant, who stands off and holds one end while the dude turns himself round and round; as he takes up the length like a human bobbin the assistant advances and pays it out. A short jacket of the same material as his trousers and ornamented with the same style of braid, and a Turkish fez or Russian brimless hat, completes a make-up that is irresistable to the belles of the Balkan peninsula.

The genuine Magyar dude is picturesque in the extreme. A billy-cock hat adorned with peacock feathers is cocked jauntily on one side of his head, a silk handkerchief embracing several bright colors encircles his neck, and he wears a light-colored jacket embroidered all over with quaint designs in colored silk, white pantaloons with embroidered buttons, coming a little below the knees, and so full as to resemble a skirt, and lastly, shiny top boots.

The Albanians residing in Constantinople are the biggest dandies in the Turkish capital; their costumes are gold-braided brimless hat, fanciful short jacket with false hanging sleeves, white frilled shirt with embroidered sleeves and front, a flounced white kilt that protrudes like a coryphee's float, white stockings bound with blue ribbon, and low dainty shoes. A gay colored sash, with Oriental pistols richly chased thrust therein, completes the costume.

One of the biggest surprises in leather garments the whole world round is worn by the Grecian dudes one sees on the streets of Constantinople. Imagine a sky-blue silken balloon bottom-side up and fastened round the wearer's waist, two neat-fitting leg-holes made in the bulge, and the whole bulb collapsed and swadding about the legs when walking, and you can imagine the lower story of a Greek dude. His trunk is enveloped in a light-fitting jacket of some other color of blue, with loose flowing sleeves and white furbelows showing at the wrists. His head is adorned with a fez from which an enormous silver tassel hangs down his back. This ornamental appendage is never on the eve of pulling off the wearer's head by its weight. He wears the ordinary shoes and socks, and sometimes the calves of his legs bare.

The Persian dude wears a tall cylindrical hat of black lamb's wool, which assumes a decidedly knowing cock or angle on the back of his head. His long black hair is trained to curl stiffly upward just below the base of the hat. He wears a sort of roundabout coat, fitting fairly tight about the body, but which at the waist develops into a plaited skirt reaching half-way down to the knees. When he walks he endeavors to have this skirt flop rythmically up and down in accord with his steps. His pantaloons are of European pattern, with very loose legs, and which are left sufficiently short to display the embroidered tops of his socks, six inches above his shoes. The material of his trousers is generally European broadcloth, and that of his coat cashmere-shawl material of some flowery pattern or silk goods of some bright, gay color.
